

Harold (Hal) Wolf is the president and CEO of HIMSS, a global advisor, thought leader and member-based society committed to reforming the global health ecosystem through the power of information and technology.

Wolf is respected internationally as a healthcare and informatics leader, with areas of expertise in mHealth, product development, integrated care models, marketing, distribution, information and technology, and large-scale innovation implementation.

Before joining HIMSS, Wolf served at The Chartis Group as director and practice leader of information and digital health strategy. Prior to The Chartis Group, he served as senior vice president and COO of Kaiser Permanente's The Permanente Federation, representing more than 16,000 physicians. Wolf also held executive positions at MTV Networks and Time Warner, and served as senior advisor to McKinsey & Co.